Introduction

I am Craig Gomes, a web designer, digital strategist, and entrepreneur with a passion for innovation and creating impactful online experiences. Throughout my career, I have demonstrated expertise in designing, building, launching, and scaling products and startups, with a specific focus on WordPress and web-based solutions. Currently, I proudly serve as the Founder and CEO of Pixelvise, a creative agency dedicated to empowering businesses in the digital realm. Our work has made a significant difference in how millions of individuals utilize WordPress daily and establish their online presence.

Timeline

2010: Commenced learning network programming and Java.

2011: Established over 50 multiplayer video game servers for Grand Theft Auto and developed various mods.

2012: Started learning PHP, HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, creating numerous static websites.

2013-2014: Developed web-based apps, delved into 3D modeling and animation, and provided freelance services in environment/level design for video games.

2015: Created an FPS video game for PC, launched a mobile game, and ventured into freelance web design projects.

2016: Recognized the potential of web design, leading to the establishment of Pixelvise, primarily focused on WordPress websites.

2017: Expanded Pixelvise's client base, collaborating with esteemed companies like Dropbox, Amazon, Google, and Marriott.

2018: Enhanced Pixelvise's services, offering branding, content writing, and digital marketing solutions.

2019: Transformed Pixelvise into a well-known brand, serving over 500 clients and completing over a thousand projects within four years.

2020: Formally registered Pixelvise as a legal entity and opened offices in Kolkata, laying the groundwork for further expansion.

2021: Initiated blogging endeavors covering diverse topics while managing Pixelvise's operations.

2022: Launched Lit Hood, offering brand merchandising and marketing services, and initiated plans for internet accessibility enhancement.

2023: Expanded Pixelvise's IT & Cloud sector, secured major software deals, and relaunched Lit Hood for B2C markets, introducing Glow in the Dark T-Shirts and Accessories.
